Simple pricing — tailored to how you work

Pricing is personalized: it can depend on your planner profile, event scope (for example theme, role, attendee count, or timeline), and current offers. Typical shapes include a free trial, subscription (monthly or annual), one-time packages for defined event sizes, and limited-time promotions. Exact amounts are confirmed at signup or checkout and may change. After a trial ends, we may retain your account identifier and related details and archive them for operational, compliance, and promotional purposes as described in our terms and privacy policy.
